

2012 Price List for Journals and Reference Books from ProQuest CSA Journal Division

Our A & I journals offer researchers and libraries affordable access to the most significant content available from over 14,000 sources of scientific information. For over a half century, libraries throughout the world have relied on ProQuest CSA journals to:

- Expand their access to sources well beyond the scope of their own collections – thus making it affordable for most libraries to offer the widest possible selection of sources in science, technology, and the humanities.
- Discover the most reliable content available from virtually every STM publisher in the world.
- Identify articles in full text available for 24-hour delivery from a supplemental service provided by the world's largest research library in engineering, science, and technology.

Published in the form of time-saving abstracts and indexes, our journals are current awareness tools for the discovery of scientific developments in the following major subject categories.

- Aerospace / Materials Science & Technology
- Agricultural Science / Fisheries
- Biomedical Sciences
- Computer & Engineering Specialties
- Earth Sciences / Water Resources / Pollution Management
- Humanities / Linguistics / Social Sciences
